The objective of this yearbook is to record the spirit of the students and events during another year at Wynford High School. All have evinced much enthusiasm and co-operation in both toil and fun.

The Royale Staff sincerely hopes that this annual will often convey fond memories of rich, rewarding experiences that we have cherished this year at Wynford.

DEDICATION

We, the Juniors and Seniors, respectfully dedicate this issue of the "Royále" to Mr. Dwight Rothhaar, our worthy advisor. We will always remember his enduring patience for which we feel much grateful appreciation. To us he is a shining example of a successful teacher, a great friend, and an "all around good fellow."

BOARD OF EDUCATION

As we near the end of another year at Wynford, we realize that the Administration and the Board of Education spend much time solving problems concerning the Wynford District.

Mr. Donnenwirth helped us with several difficulties this year although his time is nearly all consumed by supervising the affairs of the Wynford District.

Mr. Lust works diligently to make Wynford run smoothly although many problems confront him each day.

The Wynford Board of Education is a group elected by the people of the district to represent them in matters concerning property, maintenance, and administration of the district's schools.

Jeanie and Sheryl participated in the ceremony as herald and regent, respectively.

February 9 the student body assembled in the auditorium for an induction ceremony. Twenty Juniors were accepted into the National Honor Society.

During the ceremony, the four main goals of the society were revealed: scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

Charles Eichelberger sang an inspiring song, "The Builder."

The Student Council is a group of representatives from all classes and organizations which have at least twenty members.

The Student Council performs several activities throughout the school year. One big event is Homecoming.

The council directs the election of the Homecoming Queen and her attendants. This year the council also did an excellent job decorating the gym and attending to all little details that made a successful Homecoming.

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization of pupils studying homemaking. It brings together those interested in working toward better home and family living. F.H.A. increases opportunities for the development of leadership and intelligent participation so much needed in a democratic society.

The chapter had four main objectives this year.

I. Discovering Myself and My Worth to Others
II. Contributing to the Joys and Satisfactions of Family Living
III. Strengthening My Education for Future Roles
IV. Launching Good Citizenship Through Homemaking

This year the F.H.A. emphasized the third objective, Strengthening My Education for Future Roles. The project for this objective was "Stay in School." By means of this project, the chapter encouraged youth to weigh the value of an education. Through work on this project, members became aware of the many careers available to them through Home Economics.

The '65 Royale has been a success because of the sincere help and cooperation by the editors, staff members, and advisor. Duties of the staff members vary from laying out ad pages to writing copy for the Royale Staff. Only when the last layout has been drawn, the last copy written and the final proofs checked will the deadline worries for the '65 Royale be over.

AND ALL MEN ARE CREATED EQUAL

Freedom. It had meant so much to so many people--people who had cherished it for its true meaning, people who had sacrificed their lives to sustain it, people who had wanted freedom of speech, freedom of religion and equality of men for their children.

But, as Lisa reasoned, that was back in 1776; times had changed. She, too, had once held great regard for the freedoms those people of '76 had fought so bravely for, especially the thought of equality of men. How she had prized this belief; but no longer. It had ceased to mean anything to her long ago.

Why did that man have to destroy her belief. Lisa could still feel the hurt, the deep, cutting pain she had received from him that day in May. She knew she could never forget. It had cut too deeply into her heart.

Lisa could remember how happy and carefree she had been a week before that black day. Her hopes had been so high. Auditions were that week. For weeks she had practiced in preparation, and then she had begun to wonder if her piano would hold up under her hands. She knew she had to succeed. She just had to come out on top. She had needed the scholarship that was being offered to send her through college in the school of music.

Music meant so much to Lisa. She found it in a world unlike anything she had ever known---a world in which her cares disappeared, the onlt world into which she could go angry and come out feeling refreshed and at peace.

The day of the auditions had gone successfully. Lisa knew she had done her best, and she felt she had done better than the others who had tried.

Four days later the results had been announced. Not seeing her name near the top, Lisa had made a frantic search of the list of names only to find hers at the bottom.

Oh! The thought of being last was too much to bear. What kind of people were they? Lisa knew she had done better than that.

Lisa walked slowly down the dimly-lighted hallway. At last she came to the door which was marked with Professor Brown's name, the professor who had given the auditions. As she remembered, the door squeaked as she opened it and walked in.

"Professor Brown," she had said, "I've come to inquire about the results of the auditions. Wasn't there a mistake? I'm positive I deserved better than last place."

"You do, in truth, you were by far the best. I've never heard such impressive playing. I most sincerely hope that you do go far in the field of music."

"But why, then, didn't I place first?"

"Don't you see?" the professor had answered. "Your skin is black. You're a Negro."

And all men are created equal.

The purpose of the G.A.A. is to develop better health, promote sportsmanship, scholarship, leadership, and cooperation.

The Wynford G.A.A. took on a new light this year with a new advisor, new officers, and new members. The G.A.A. promoted intramural volleyball and basketball to provide competition among classes.

The officers are Pam Schreck, Pres.; Irene Luidhardt, V. Pres.; Linda Carter, Sec.; Michele Liming, Treas.; Janet Potter, St. Council Rep.; Mrs. Stockdale, advisor.

These officers led the G.A.A. in organizing and sponsoring the Welcome Dance. Other projects this year were coat checks, sweatshirt sales, and a basketball clinic. Also, a delegation of members attended a Play Day at Buckeye Central and a volleyball clinic at Galion.

Miss Marilyn Young reigns as homecoming queen of Wynford High School as she was crowned Saturday evening during the reserve halftime of the Wynford - Crestline game where the Royals out - played Crestline Bulldogs, 76-43.

Escorted by Doug Gregg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gregg, Rt. 2, Nevada, Miss Young, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Young, Rt. 4, Bucyrus.

Her attendants were Annette Johnson, senior, escorted by Mike Schifer; Sherry Clayton, junior, escorted by Mitch Alban; Janet Potter, sophomore, escorted by Craig Kent, and Connie LaRue, freshman, escorted by Eldon Beidelchies.

The girls were selected earlier by the student body, however, the identity of the queen was not revealed until Saturday night.

Jim Beal, president of the Student Council, which made arrangements for the ceremony, crowned Miss Young as Wynford homecoming queen, while the pep band provided background music.

Judges, Public Meet Miss Crawford Co. Candidates

Plans for the Mardi Gras celebration Wednesday evening began to crystallize last night as judges and the public were introduced to the four girls competing for the Miss Crawford County title.

Dressed in formals, the four candidates were seated on velvet boudoir chairs in a French provincial setting in the window of Wise Furniture Store from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The judges talked to the girls and later met them socially at a reception in the Chateau de Charme. Parents of the girls were also guests at the affair sponsored by the Jayceettes, wives of Jaycees who are in charge of the Mardi Gras celebration for the third year.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Maniaci and Miss Mary Holloway, Marion, then made their decision as to the queen and placed it in a sealed envelope to be opened at the conclusion of the Wednesday parade.

The queen candidates are Miss Leslie Crall, Wynford High School senior; Miss Patty Grove Col. Crawford High School senior; Miss Linda Shoup, Buckeye Central High School senior and Miss Sally Williams, Bucyrus High School junior.

Last year's Miss Crawford County, Miss Linda Culver, a Bucyrus High School senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Culver, 518 Plymouth St., will crown her successor Wednesday.

Wynford Senior Makes Debut With Symphony

Miss Patricia Ritterspach, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carey Ritterspach, Nevada, and a senior at Wynford High School has made her debut with the Columbus Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Evan Wallon.

Miss Ritterspach appeared as guest piano soloist in one of a series of concerts presented last week for the Columbus public high schools. She played Mendelssohn's "G-minor Piano Concerto" in three movements.

Miss Ritterspach was selected to perform last spring following a state - wide audition sponsored by the symphony.

Saturday, accompanied by her high school music teacher Wayne Shaw, she went to Ashland College to participate in auditions sponsored by the Mansfield Symphony orchestra. Miss Ritterspach again played the Mendelssohn concerto.

The Mansfield Symphony annually holds instrumental and vocal solo auditions for young people of high school age to 21 years, the purpose being to select someone to appear with the orchestra in a concert.

Miss Ritterspach is a student of Loy Kohler, Capital University, Columbus and plans to enter the university next fall as a freshman music major.

Wynford High School Girls Also Take Cheerleading Honors At Camp

THESE WYNFORD HIGH SCHOOL girls took cheerleading honors at Camp All-America, Hartland, Mich., last week. Bucyrus Girl Named Junior Fair Queen

Miss Annette Johnson
Junior Fair Queen

A Crawford County girl was named Ohio Junior Fair Queen in Columbus yesterday afternoon on the opening day of the 11th Ohio State Fair.

Annette Johnson, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Johnson, Rt. 1, Bucyrus won the title over 51 other contestants.

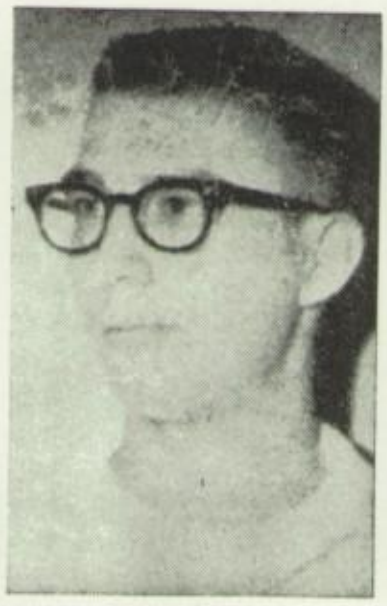
Annette was also crowned 1964 Junior Fair Queen of the Crawford County Fair August. 5. She represented the Wynford Future Farmers of America. She became eligible to participate in the State Fair Queen contest through winning the Crawford County queen title.

An only child, Annette is a senior at Wynford High School where she plays in the high school band and participates in other school activities.

By virtue of her recent accomplishment, Miss Johnson now qualifies to compete in the Queen of Queens contest to be held Thursday. A total of 40 other queens also will vie for the title.

Five Area Youths Leave Today For Boys' State

James Beal



Mark Brown

Charles Cook

Five Bucyrus and rural area youths, one from Bucyrus High School, one from Col. Crawford High School and three from Wynford High School, left by bus at 8 a.m. today from Mansfield McVey Post 16, American Legion, to attend the 27th Buckeye Boys' State at Ohio University, Athens. They will return Saturday, June 20.

Charles Cook

Attending Boys' State from Bucyrus High School will be Charles Cook, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cook of 310½ S. Sandusky Ave. He is being sponsored by Col. Crawford Post 181, American Legion.

Charles will be a senior at BHS this fall and during the past school term he served on the annual staff and was a candidate for the American Field Service American's Abroad program. He is also a provisional member of the National Honor Society.

Charles Eichelberger

Charles Eichelberger, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Eichelberger, Oceola Rd., will be attending Boys' State under the sponsorship of Voiture 150, 40 et 8. He will be a senior at Wynford High School this fall.

He served as assistant editor of the school annual, was president of the senior choir and was also a member of the band, Key Club and National Honor Society.

Charles is a member of St. John's United Church of Christ, Bucyrus, and sings in the church choir. He has served as president of the Youth Fellowship of the church.

Two of the delegates to Buckeye Boys' State will be sponsored by Nevada American Legion Post 462. They are James Beal, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beal of Rt. 4, Bucyrus, and Douglas Gregg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gregg of Rt. 2, Nevada.

Charles Eichelberger

Douglas Gregg

James Beal

James has completed his junior year at Wynford High School where he was vice president of the class and a member of the Activity Band. This year he became a member of the National Honor Society and was business manager for the Wynford Royale year book. He also played on the reserve basketball team and was a member of the track team.

He is a member of the Mt. Zion Buckeyes 4-H Club, of which he is treasurer, and at the present time is president of the Crawford County Junior Leadership Club. He is also a member of Good Hope Lutheran Church, Bucyrus, and president of the Luther League.

Douglas Gregg

At Wynford School the past year Douglas was president of the junior class, member of the National Honor Society and played on varsity basketball and baseball teams.

At the American Legion-sponsored school in self-government the boys will be assigned to 24 mythical cities and six counties that make up "the 51st state" and will then begin politicking.

Friday and Saturday will be spent in political and governmental orientation and the caucuses and conventions necessary for organizing parties.

Then for five days next week they will govern themselves, making and enforcing laws, holding court trials and transacting other governmental business.

Gov. James A. Rhodes will address the group Monday night and other speakers will be Lt. Gov. John Brown, Ohio Supreme Court Justice C. William O'Neill, Ohio Legion Commander Donald Gruenbaum of Marysville and Jerry Lucas, former Ohio State All-America basketball player now with the Cincinnati Royals.

Nine Crawford County and area girls will be in attendance as Buckeye Girls' State, sponsored by the Ohio American Legion Auxiliary, officialy opens its 18th annual session Saturday.

With its beginning in 1947 with 304 "citizens," it has grown to a record registration of 1,250 girls this year. The eight-day government - in - action workshop will again be held on the campus of Capital University, Columbus.

Each of the Girls' State citizens has completed her junior year in high school. The local delegates their school and sponsoring organizations include:

Beverly Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Adams, 211 E. Cook St., Nevada, Wynford High School, sponsored by Nevada Legion Auxiliary.

Kay Brinkman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Brinkman, Rt. 1, Bucyrus, Wynford High School, sponsored by Bucyrus Legion Auxiliary.

Margaret Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ross, 310 N. Garrett St., Nevada, Wynford High School, Nevada Legion Auxiliary.

The sponsoring fee for Girls' State is $35.

The aim of Buckeye Girls' State is "To Inculcate a Sense of Individual Responsibility to Community, State, and Nation." With this objective each girl is assigned a party, either a Nationalist or Federalist; one of the 24 cities which are named for famous Ohio women; and one of the three counties which are named for past department presidents of the auxiliary.

Approximately 50 girls will make up the population of each city with a city government advisor and a counselor. It is here the government functioning begins and is carried out by each citizen's participation in county and state government activities which are guided by numerous staff members.

In addition to their practical experience, delegates will hear such speakers as Ohio Governor James A. Rhodes; Honorable C. William O'Neill, judge, Supreme Court of Ohio; Honorable Olive H. Huston, mayor of Xenia; Patrolman James E. Clark, Ohio Highway Patrol; Mrs. Christine Conaway, dean of women, Ohio State University; plus government officials in legislature and justice, and dignitaries of the Ohio American Legion Auxiliary, the American Legion and the 40 et 8

Keynote speaker the opening night will be the department president of the Ohio American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. William N. Gill of Milford. Climaxing the entire week will be a talk by Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, director of the Institute of International Studies, Bradley University and former finance minister of the Hungarian Republic.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK — If you happened to tune in to WBNS-TV at 2 p. m. Sunday, you would have seen Mike Schifer (right) of Wynford on the Fred Taylor Show as "Player of the Week." Mike is shown above with his coach, Jim Bauer. A third-year regular, Mike is averaging about 27 points a game for the Royals, who have posted an 8-1 record. Mike is president of the Senior Class at Wynford, participates in band and choir and plays baseball with the high school team and the Junior American Legion team. (T-F Photo)
